RIMROCK '63

Joe Baker

The Rimrock

1962-63

Iraan High School

Iraan, Texas

Dedicated to

Mrs. Mary Armstrong

We, the Rimrock Staff, are happy to dedicate this yearbook of 1962-63 to our helpful and understanding Sponsor, Mrs. Mary Armstrong.

We are grateful to you, Mrs. Armstrong, for instructing us, encouraging us, for your unending patience, and your leading us by setting a pattern. You have always been ready to sympathize, to laugh, and freely render your time, talents, and yourself.

As the end of our High school days, we pause to give our thanks and appreciation to the one who has rendered every service to make this edition of the Rimrock one you will never forget.

Our school years are important, formative years of our lives. Since the training we get in school is a step by step, year by year process, we might compare our school years to a ladder. Each grade in school is represented by a rung on the ladder. On which rung do you stand? Are you just beginning to climb up the ladder, or are you ready to step off into another part of the world? Those of you in the upper grades may glance back at the first few grades with a note of sadness as you reminisce of the years past when you were on the first rungs of the ladder of education. Those of you on the lower rungs may be looking eagerly forward to the things to come.

It is my hope that the Rimrock of 1962-63 will be one that each of you will look back on and treasure in the years to come.

Sincerely,

Judy Garland

Editor

ADMINISTRATION

The quality of mercy is not strained;
It droppeth, as the gentle rain from heaven
Upon the place beneath; it is twice bless'd —
It blesseth him that gives, and him that takes.

We, the Seniors of 1963, in accordance with our heritage, go forward to new horizons with hope and anticipation as others before us have done. We leave a little of ourselves in the halls, classrooms and old meeting places, to mingle with that which has made this building live and breathe.

Ours is a small class, and it is a good class. We've worked together and played together. Senior boys on the gridiron or basketball court were given full support by Senior girls in the concession stand, band, or cheering section. The Senior Play, the Prom...Memorable events, memorable people, and truly, a memorable year.

To be, or not to be: that is the question:

A step upward on the ladder and only one rung from the top. Upperclassmen now, and it's a good feeling! This has been a year of decision, of preparation, and of fun. Surely no one will forget the football concession stands, ribbon sales, the Halloween Coronation program, or the Junior-Senior Prom.

This was an important year, new and different. We were no longer freshmen, just out of junior high school. We knew our way around and were just a little contemptuous of those newcomers who didn't.

This year was a half-way mark for us, and we were more than a little startled to realize that instead of four long years in front of us there were only two short ones, that we should get every little bit of good from them now, for they would never come again.

Self-confident and happy, we whizzed through elementary school . . . and junior high school was just another stepping stone to this . . . high school. No one knew better than we that we had four long years to go, and no one was less concerned.

After that first day of initiation, we settled down to a routine, though some of us were lost in the new building, faced with new teachers and new rules. However, we learned to belong. This was a year filled with new experiences . . . a year in which we acquired self-knowledge.

The Future Farmers of America is a national organization of, by, and for boys studying scientific agriculture. The FFA is 100% American in its ideals, striving for the development of leadership, the building of a more permanent agriculture, and the improvement of country life.

The Iraan FFA was organized in July 1948. Presently there are 37 members engaged in a variety of projects to supplement their classroom studies. The projects this year include 120 fat lambs, 215 breeding sheep, 2 steers, 10 pigs, 100 chickens, rabbits and game birds. For the past two years our chapter has received the National FFA Chapter Award.

FFA Motto:

Learning to do
Doing to learn
Living to serve.

ORGANIZATIONS
